Thinking of submitting an idea? A product? A story?

Great! We'd love to have you!

Here's a few tips for what we are looking for and other stuff you may need to know.

MAEVE RAISING AN INSPIRED INSPIRATION

MAEVE is all about raising a new generation of inspired, conscientious, creative, mindful and thoughtful little people. MAEVE is a new online publication aimed at 30-40 something women (mainly) who like to be informed, entertained, and educated. Our readers are highly attuned to wanting more from their media, are intelligent and are at a stage in their lives where average just won't cut it.

MAEVE features articles, stories, products, web sites, blogs, services and pretty much anything else that has meaning, substance, and integrity.

We don't pay for submissions, we don't pay for products, if you want to be featured in MAEVE for your thoughts, your writing, your product or your thing then we will credit you/your website. We believe in karma.

MAEVE's Issue 5 is set to launch June/July 2011. See you then.

If you have something that you feel would fit MAEVE then please email us at submission@MAEVEmagazine.com
